DEATH OF MRS. JAMES LAUDER

A Woman Who Played a Very Useful Part in the Early Life of Edmonton

REMARKABLY FINE TRIBUTE

Which was Paid to Her by an Old Friend—A Home That was Ever the Centre of Good Influences

The death took place on Sunday morning, after an illness of considerable duration, of Mrs. James Lauder, who had made her home in Edmonton for nearly thirty years. She was born in Glasgow, Scotland, 65 years ago, and, shortly after her marriage, came to Winnipeg in 1874. For seven years she lived there, coming overland with her husband and family to Edmonton in 1881. The journey across the prairie began on May 30th, and the destination was reached on September 15. Mr. Lauder established the first bakery and confectionery store in Edmonton, and conducted the business for fourteen years. To them there was born a large family, five daughters and three sons, being still alive: Mrs. K. E. McLeod, Mrs. W. A. Griesbach, Mrs. A. W. Ormsby, Mrs. F. E. Maroney, Mrs. Ed. Ranton, Thomas G. Lauder, Ed. Ormsby, James, Vancouver, and Norman, Summerville, Washington.

Mrs. Lauder was a devoted Presbyterian, and Rev. Dr. McQueen will conduct the funeral services which will take place tomorrow from the family residence, 530 Eighth street, at 2:30 p.m.

THE LATE MRS. LAUDER.

Of the place which Mrs. Lauder held in the affections of all who knew her, and particularly in those of the old-time residents of the city, and of the usefulness of the part which she bore in the development of the Edmonton of to-day, much should be written. Fortunately an extremely beautiful tribute was paid to her by one, who was able to speak of her through intimate experience, while she was yet alive.

Mr. Shaw's Tribute
A sketch was contributed some years ago to The Saturday News by Mr. Charles Lewis Shaw, the well-known war correspondent, and general literary worker, who made his home in Edmonton in the eighties, being one of the earliest legal practitioners to settle here. He prefaced it with these lines from George Eliot's "The Spanish Gypsy":

A woman mixed of such fine elements,
That were all virtue and religion dead
She'd make them newly, being what she was.

Mr. Shaw wrote: "Weel, laddie," said a stalwart soldier of the Black Watch, as we sat in the darkness of the South African night and the Highland Brigade lay on the velvet morning the order for the attack on Cronje's stronghold at Magersfontein.

There was the strong accent and intonation that Glasgow alone can give to the tongue of man or woman in the "Weel, laddie," and by the tricks that memory plays, my mind became obdurate to the intonations of General Wauchope of an hour before, an interview granted for the sake of the companionship of

LIBERAL WON BY 432 VOTES

By-Election in Ottawa to Fill Second Seat for Which Sir Wilfrid was Chosen

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The by-election held here on Saturday, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, resulted in the return of Albert Allard, Liberal, by a majority of 432 votes. The vote was: Allard, 582; Dr. Chabot, Conservative, 589. The French portion of the city gave Allard his majority. The English people went for Dr. Chabot. Allard's majority was 33 more than Sir Wilfrid Laurier received in the general elections.

A HORRIBLE CRIME

A Cincinnati Woman Murdered, After Being Subjected to Greatest Torture

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 31.—Bound and gagged, the body of Mrs. Alice Van Sandt, burned to a crisp, was found this morning lying on top of a gas stove in her kitchen. The woman had met death while her three young children were playing in the adjoining room. A Vansandt, the woman's husband, is held as a witness. The man admits that he quarrelled with his wife all Friday night and up to the time he left the house this morning, one hour, he claims, before the discovery of the murder. Mrs. Vansandt was fired choked unconscious, then bound and gagged with strips torn from a lace curtain and placed across the stove with her head in the flames of the burner. The horror of the crime is increased by the coroner's statement that the woman must have recovered consciousness before death. When found, all her clothing had been burned off the body and the flesh was charred to cinders. The police discovered last night that Vansandt had been paying attentions to a young girl for some time. The father had protested against his daughter's conduct and had finally brought her before a police magistrate, who had committed her to a house of refuge. On her father's recommendation, however, she was sent to a convent instead.

MAKING TEST FOR HARD PAN

Wm. Pearce has Well-Drilling Outfit in Centre of River Channel—Preparing for High-Level

Wm. Pearce, acting under instructions from the C.P.R. bridge engineers at Winnipeg, began work this morning with portable engine and a well drilling outfit to make tests on the site of the proposed C.P.R. high-level bridge. He occupied a position in the centre of the river channel and commenced sending a shaft down to ascertain the character of the geological formation below the river bed. He expects to find hard pan at most immediately below the water and then a layer of quicksand of several feet thickness. After this the hard pan will again appear of sufficient depth to support the heavy bridge piers. Mr. Pearce will conduct the tests at several places across the wide channel of the river.

SWITCHMEN RESUME

After Being Out on Strike Since the Last of November

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 29.—One week from today the switchmen of the Northwest, who have been on strike since November 30th, will return to work. Practically every one of the strikers will be in their old places. They will resume work with the wage question unsettled but they will be governed by the figures agreed upon in the Chicago conference.

BOY BANDIT GETS HEARING

Will Appear Before Judge Taylor in District Court This Afternoon to Answer Charge

PRELIMINARY AT BARRACKS

R. J. Johnson, the Store Keeper Told Story of Hold-up as Reported in Capital of Friday Last

Raymond Webber, the seventeen-year-old highwayman accused of holding up R. J. Johnson of Nanaimo, will answer to the charge in the district court this afternoon before Judge Taylor.

At the preliminary hearing before Inspector Worsley at the Mounted Police barracks this morning, P. J. Johnson, the complainant, was the only witness and gave practically the same evidence as appeared in Friday's Capital.

It seems that on Thursday evening last he was in his store about 12 p.m. when there was a knock at the front door, which was locked. Johnson stepped out to the back and lighted a lantern and went around to the front. When he stepped into the porch there was a man standing in the doorway who asked him if there was any chance to buy anything. He unlocked the door, and looking back, saw the man was masked. As Johnson stepped in, Webber did the same and the former closed the door. The defendant then stepped back about four feet and raised the rifle. He said "Now, then," Johnson grabbed Webber and the gun at the same time. He threw the gun barrel up, and an instant later the gun went off. As they struggled, the prisoner tried to get hold of the trigger in order to fire again. Johnson then took Wilnot to the door and stepped outside, calling for assistance. Accused made a struggle and got away, running down the road. The villagers came to Johnson's assistance and E. Bailey, owner of the sleigh, John Gibson, George Carnegie and Mr. Johnson piled in and started in pursuit. They followed the prisoner for about a mile and three-quarters until he gained the spot where he had his horse tied and effected his escape. The Mounted Police arrived in Nanaimo at 4 a.m. and Johnson told them his suspicions, having recognized the man's voice. The party left for the Webber place. When they arrived they told Mrs. Webber they wanted to see Raymond and he came downstairs all dressed, and was taken to the barracks. He acknowledged the gun to be his.

Recognized the Prisoner.

When asked by Inspector Worsley, Johnson said Webber was the man who had fired at him. He knew prisoner well and had done business with him in the past. Prisoner answered all descriptions. Cross-examined as to the gun, Mr. Johnson said that George Carnegie had taken the gun from the ground and thrown on the empty shell and one cartridge, leaving seven good cartridges in the magazine. This testimony agreed with the admission prisoner made that he was the gun. LIBERALS IN BETTER HEART

And Discussing the Programme With Which They Will Face the New House

VOTING ENDED IN ENGLAND

Where Unionists Have a Majority—Six Seats Still to Be Won

London, January 30.—The week closed with the Liberals in better heart as a result of their gradually increasing total. The emphasis that the Labourites, the government's purely British majority will be forged. The fact that Premier Asquith and Chancellor Lloyd George are taking a brief holiday after a short conference on Saturday further is reassuring to the ministerialists, who see in this an evidence of harmony in the cabinet. It is notable that Moderate Opinion, which a few days ago echoed conservative suggestions of a conference on the subject of the House of Lords, has now come into line with the extremists in declaring that it is the government's first duty to pass the budget at once and then take up the matter of the House of Lords. It is hinted that the second budget, which is due to be presented immediately after the first is passed, will contain concessions to the Irish in the reduction of spirit taxes and to the imperialists by an increase in the navy, for which probably $25,000,000 will be voted. The Unionists are confident that the government will be plunged into difficulty from the outset by the Labourites, who are certain to re-introduce their "Right to Work Bill," which was rejected by the government in the last parliament.

A CHANCE TO WIN A VALUABLE PRIZE

A Strictly Business Proposition Put Forth by the Daily Capital and Saturday News—Many Prizes of Great Value

The Daily Capital and Saturday News, in order to inaugurate the greatest and most liberal prize contest ever offered in Western Canada, in the advertising pages of to-day's issue the proposition is given in detail, including the means by which the prizes may be obtained.

Never before has such an opportunity been offered in this city—an opportunity for ambitious people, both in Edmonton and Strathcona and surrounding country, to secure a large reward for little effort.

The Daily Capital and Saturday News is using this plan for permanent circulation, for adding new subscribers.

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY
For the Capital and the News it is a plain business proposition. It proposes to spend approximately $75,000 in advertising itself and getting after new business. The growth of the Daily Capital has surpassed the most sanguine hopes of the management. We wish, however, to further increase the circulation of the Capital, and this contest is only the first step of our efforts.

For the readers of the Daily Capital and Saturday News it is the opportunity of a lifetime. The contest will last only a few weeks. The smallest prize offered will repay anyone for their efforts, while the winners of the larger prizes will be handsomely rewarded.

The plan for awarding the prizes will be fair and impartial. It will offer to anyone who enters the contest a strictly an opportunity to win a valuable prize. There is no chance or luck in the contest. It will be a strictly competitive play, in which personal effort and perseverance will count for more than anything else. The assistance of your friends will be an aid, but staying qualities and energy will bring you out at the head of the list when the winners are announced.

CHINESE FAMILY'S ESCAPE

Rescued Through the Upstairs Windows While in Semi-Conscious Condition—Six Stores Destroyed

Wetaskiwin, Jan. 31.—A spectacular fire broke out on Railway street east on Sunday morning at 4:30, which threatened to become a big conflagration as a high wind was blowing. The origin of the fire, which is supposed to have started in Phillips poolroom, is a mystery. The flames spread so rapidly that Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wong and child, who resided over their restaurant, barely escaped with their lives, being in a semi-conscious condition when they were removed through an upstairs window. The firemen did valiant service in saving O. H. Johnson's store and holding the fire at that point. The following are the estimated losses:
Lee Wing, $1,400, including $400 in cash. Johnson Thirst Building, $500, uninsured. Kaiser & Bleiler, two buildings, $4,000, insured. W. Mellett, tinshop, stock, $1,200, no insurance. Snider's second-hand store, stock, $500, insurance $400. Phillips poolroom and barber shop, contents $500.

TRIED TO BLOW UP BUILDING

Night Riders Threaten Kentucky Tobacco Company and its President

UP BUILDING

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 31.—Soldiers of the Lexington company of State Militia are guarding the seven-story McClelland building in the heart of the city to prevent the carrying out of the threat made early yesterday by a gang of men, to blow up the building in an effort to work harm on the Burly Tobacco Society.

About two o'clock yesterday morning Watchman Reizebe of the McClelland building rushed to the police station and asked for help, stating that night riders had captured his building. Police reserves were hurriedly sent to the structure, but found no men. Four offices of the Burly Tobacco Society on the fifth floor had been partially wrecked. The watchman said he had made his rounds at one o'clock, and when he reached the fifth floor he was accosted by a gang of fifteen or twenty men, who ordered him out of the building, saying they were night riders and they had come to find Clarence Letus, president of the organization. Seven automobiles filled with officers searched the city and the surrounding country until nearly daylight.

$1667 IN PRIZES AT SEED FAIR

Splendid Exhibits in MacLean Block—Important Agricultural Fairs Convention in Mechanics Hall

This will be Alberta farmers' week in Edmonton with the Provincial Seed Fair, the convention of the Alberta Fairs Association and a meeting of the directors of the U.F.A. in progress.

The Provincial Seed Fair which is also under the auspices of the Dominion Seed Branch, will be held in the MacLean Block, Jasper avenue, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. The whole ground floor of the block has been secured and one division will be devoted to the exhibits of grains and the other to the excellent programme of speeches which has been prepared. A large number of the exhibits have already arrived but there are more to come, now lying at the C.N.R. and C.P.R. freight and express offices.

A total of $1667 in prizes has undoubtedly attracted the great number of exhibitors who have been received from all over the province. This is a greater amount than has ever before been offered in the three previous years in which the fair has been held. The total includes $629 offered in prizes by the provincial government, $888 offered in prizes by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, as well as six cups valued at $625 with which goes $125 in cash. The first provincial seed fair was held in Edmonton three years ago.

On Thursday evening after the judges have completed their work addresses from grain and farm experts will be held in the hall adjoining. Prof. Bedford, professor of agronomy in Manitoba Agric. College, and one who has been associated for eighteen years with Western agriculture, will speak in the evening on "The Romance of Early Western Agriculture," and on Friday morning on "Some Essentials in Successful Western Farming." Other addresses will be given by Prof. L. H. Hutton, superintendent of the Government Farm at Bozeman, Montana, on "Dry Farming and Crop Improvement"; G. H. Hutton, superintendent of the Lacombe Experimental Farm on the work of the last season; W. C. McWilliam of the Dominion Seed Branch, and W. H. Fairfield, supt. of the Lethbridge Experimental Farm.

On Thursday and Friday delegates from all the agricultural fairs associations in the province will meet in Mechanics' Hall, Edmonton, to arrange fair dates throughout the province. This week will decide the dates of the Edmonton Exhibition this year.

POSTOFFICE TO CLOSE SUNDAYS

An Order to That Effect Has Been Issued From Department at Ottawa

RESULT OF AN AGITATION

Which was Strongly Opposed by Edmonton Business Men—No One to be Allowed in Corridors

The Edmonton post office was open yesterday for probably the last time on Sunday.

That is, if an edict sent out by the Post Office Department at Ottawa to Postmaster McIntyre of Winnipeg today will also be received by Postmaster May of this city. The instructions are to the effect that the Winnipeg office will in future be closed altogether to the public on Sundays. The new rule is to come into effect on February 1st.

"I have heard nothing about this," said Postmaster May this morning when asked if he had similar instructions. "No doubt I shall be informed by mail and in that case shall not know definitely until the C.P.R. mail is opened between four and five o'clock this afternoon. I expect that instructions issued to the Winnipeg post office will also be received here."

"Will it affect box holders in Edmonton very much?" Mr. May was asked.

"There are a great many citizens who come for their mail on Sunday. There are also newspaper offices who find it necessary to receive their exchanges on Sunday. The order from Ottawa will put a stop to this. There are no Sunday holders in the Edmonton post office on Sunday," so the box holders will be the only ones affected."

The closing of city post offices in Western Canada has been vigorously fought in Alberta by the Boards of Trade of both Edmonton and Calgary. The consensus of opinion was that it was in the interest of the public to give box holders access to the post office on every day in the week.

The order is a distinct victory for the Lord's Day Alliance, which has been raising the issue in Western Canada.

The despatch from Winnipeg conveying the news reads:

"According to instructions just received by Postmaster McIntyre from the P. O. Department at Ottawa, the Winnipeg office will in future be closed altogether to the public on Sundays. The order is to the effect that the public is to be excluded from the corridors on Sundays and as the new rule takes effect on February 1, it means that the local post office was open yesterday for the last time on Sunday. The order affects practically only box holders, who have always been accorded the privilege of getting their mail on Sundays just the same as on other days. About the only others affected by the closing will be those who make the corridors a landing place on cold days."

MONDAY, JANUARY 31, 1910.

SIR JOHN A. AND SIR WILFRID

At the banquet tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the National Club in Toronto recently, he made a reference to his most distinguished predecessor in the Canadian Premiership, which has not received the notice that it deserves.

"If I have been able," he said, "in the course of my life, to give justice to whom justice was due, to meet my opponent and shake his hand, and to say to my friends and foes, 'good I thought of them, I owe it largely to the example which was given me in my own case—to a man whose portrait is on the wall, and who was once the great leader of the Conservative party.'"

"When I entered Parliament Sir John A. Macdonald had been twenty, may be for thirty years, the acknowledged leader of his party. From the very day I entered, from the first time I opened my mouth in Parliament, Sir John A. Macdonald always showed me the greatest kindness. When I became connected with the leadership of the Liberal party, I was thrown in close contact with him, and I must say for the credit of his memory that I always found him in all our relations not only courteous, but true to his word and never unfair."

There were some things in his manner of leading his party, although not his policy, that Sir Wilfrid thought worthy of imitation.

"If I have had some measure of success in my leadership," he added "the Conservatives have Sir John A. Macdonald to thank."

There is more truth than appears on the surface in this last ally, which the report says was greeted with loud laughter and applause. Sir Wilfrid has followed in Sir John A.'s course in one very important respect, his Canadianism has been of the broadest and he has been able to keep a united party behind him in carrying out his ideas. The Liberals have been a national organization under Sir Wilfrid just as the Conservatives were under Sir John. If the latter had lived up to his present day, there would not have been one Conservative policy for Quebec and another for Ontario, as has so frequently happened in recent years, a condition which is developing once again in connection with the naval issue. What the party needs is the sort of leadership of a strong man, who will be able to speak in its name in all the provinces of Confederation in regard to great public issues.

That national leadership requires an exceptional man is illustrated by a speech which Sir Wilfrid gave at a bye-election meeting in Ottawa the other night.

"In the province of Quebec," he said, "I am being attacked by the Conservative party in alliance with the Nationals for going too far on the naval question. I am denounced in my own province as a traitor to my race. In the province of Ontario I am being denounced as a traitor to the British Crown. There is as much truth in the one as in the other. My position is not a bed of roses. If a political leader wants to keep his money in this country, as has happened here for the past thirty years, he must take his position on these broad grounds that will appeal to all races and to all creeds, to Canada, and to the motherland as well. He must look both to the right and to the left. He must ask all men to make some sacrifices of their prejudices, so that we all can unite on a common ground and develop along harmonious lines this country of ours in peace, and, if necessary call for it, in war. I place my reliance upon the men of fair and moderate and honest opinion, both here and in the motherland. We have adopted the reasonable and moderate course, which should appeal to all."

Herein we have the source of Sir Wilfrid's strength admirably described, just as it was that of Sir John's before him.

The Medicine Hat Times, commenting on Dr. Tully's address at the recent farmers' convention in Edmonton on the proposition to establish the agricultural college in Strathcona, says:

"Nothing whatever but a sectional spirit is at the bottom of any other proposition, and no good reason has been advanced for any other location. There are many and weighty reasons for placing it where the senate decided."

This, from a Southern Alberta source, shows that the habit of thinking provincially is growing. It is no wonder that in Medicine Hat and Innisfail, two towns where Dr. Tully spoke and explained his plans, the people are very strongly in favor of them.

A reader corrects a statement which was made on this page the other day that the wreck at Webwood was the worst in the history of Canadian railroading. The Capital put that at the Desjardins Canal, near Hamilton in second place. It seems that it should still be first. There were no less than 83 lives lost in that terrible disaster and over 200 injured. But last week's comes next, with forty-three fatalities reported up to the time of writing. Other great wrecks have been as follows:

June 22, 1872—Belleville, Ont., engine left tracks; many hurt, scalded, etc.; about thirty killed.

January 2, 1884—Near Toronto, collision on Grand Trunk; about 31 killed.

July 16, 1887—Collision at St. Thomas, Ont.; petroleum explosion; 14 killed and about 100 injured.

April 28, 1889—Near Hamilton, Ont., on Grand Trunk; train ran off track; 17 killed.

February 27, 1889—Near St. George, Ont.; by collapse of a bridge; 11 killed.

July 8, 1892—Merriton, on G.T.R.; collision; several persons drowned in Welland Canal.

November 15, 1898—Collision on G.T.R. near Trenton, Ont., 12 deaths.

August 9, 1899—Express leaves the rails, between Montreal and Ottawa; 7 deaths.

December 6, 1902—Train wrecked near Halifax, N.S.; 7 deaths, 12 injured.

December 26, 1902—Collision on G.T.R., at Westwood, Ont.; 28 deaths, 20 injured, many fatally.

April 11, 1903—Collision near Halifax, N.S.; 4 deaths.

February 26, 1907—Near Guelph on Grand Trunk, a broken rail caused derailment; train rolled down embankment; 3 killed, 16 injured.

September 3, 1907—At Caledon, on C.P.R.; excursion train to Toronto Exhibition; speeding around Horse-shoe Curve; 7 killed, 114 injured.

What Others Say

POETRY AND A POET

(Lippincott's Magazine)

The literary editor was absorbed in the precious and uplifting thought when the horse reporter trotted into his sacred seclusion.

"What would you say," inquired the horse reporter after the Lit. Ed. had been aroused to subsidiary affairs, "if a man sent you in a verse of poetry that read like this?" and he lined off the following couplet:

"Help us to save free conscience from the paw
Of hissing wolves whose gospel is their maw."

The Lit. Ed. burst into roars of laughter—real horse laughs they were called, but the horse reporter stayed on the track.

"That's all right," he said, "but what do you think of it?"

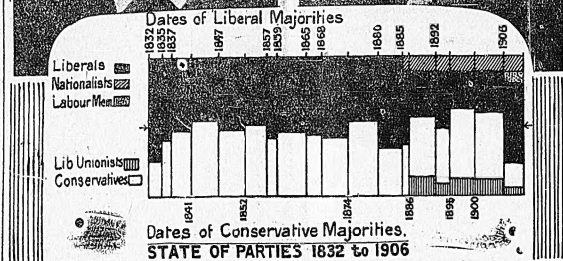

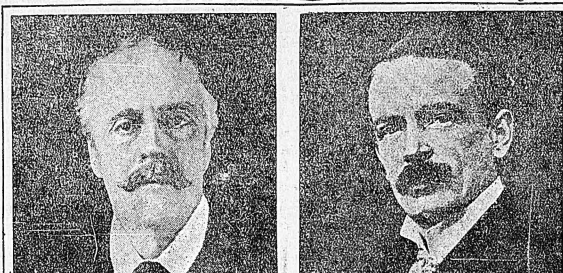

"Did you write it?" hawhawed the Lit. Ed. "It sounds like several of yours that I have had to delete. I loved old chap, you ought to stop trying to write poetry and stay with the ponies. Look at that rhyme—paw and maw. Why it sounds like children calling for their parents in dire distress."

"I didn't write it," the horse reporter explained, "but I have to delete it. 'Well, you ought to be glad you didn't. Who is the guilty writer?'" The horse reporter smiled pleasantly.

"His name was Milton, first name John," he said. "You've heard of John, I guess. He was an Englishman, and those are the last two lines of a sonnet he handed out to Lord General Cromwell in 1642. Look it up and see for yourself," and the horse reporter pranced out of the sacred seclusion snorting for joy.

THE ELECTIONS OVER

MR A J BALFOUR RIGHT HON DAVID LLOYD-GEORGE

The last voting takes place in British House of Commons since 1832. In the new parliament the distinction between Conservatives and Unionists will be obliterated and the white space, as it has appeared since 1906, moves up to a point half way towards the arrow, the white and black being practically equal. The Nationalists and Laborites remain, roughly speaking, the same.

PHEGMATIC

(Ottawa Journal)

Canadian politics at their best—or worst—cannot touch a certain brand of British. For instance at Dereham while the Conservative candidate was going from one fainting fit to another from excitement and overwork, a mob chased the Liberal candidate into a canal, and having got him there, stood on the bank howling for his gore. In the meantime, for good measure, a group of suffragettes was hurling rocks at everything breakable and smashing windows on the side. Even West Elgin in its palmy days would look like a prayer meeting beside that phlegmatic combination.

And yet they say the British are a Phlegmatic race!

A VALID EXCUSE

(Chicago Tribune)

"I'd like to know," said the indignant subscriber, "why I don't get my copy of the Clover Junction Vindicator?"

"I'm sure," said the postmaster at Drearyhurst, looking mildly at him over his spectacles, "it isn't my fault."

"Well, how two faults is it? I ought to have got it two days ago. Are you sure you haven't handed it out to somebody else?"

"Oh, yes; I'm sure I didn't do that. You see—"

"I've come to town today especially to get it. Been taking that paper for seven years. I used to live at Clover Junction."

"I'm sorry, but—"

"What good does your being sorry do? You ain't half as sorry as I am! This is the second time this thing has happened! I didn't get the paper last week, either! And you say it isn't your fault! It's somebody's fault, and if it happens again I'll make complaint to the government!"

"I was about to say—"

"I won't stand it any longer! Here I've come six miles through a deep snow—"

"I think I can explain—"

"There's nothing to explain. I want my copy of the Clover Junction Vindicator."

"Mr. Kincaid, I sympathize with you, but you won't get the Clover Junction Vindicator any more. The Clover Junction Vindicator collapsed, busted, petered out and went up the flue two weeks ago. That's what I was trying to tell you. Please step aside, Mr. Kincaid, and let me see what the little girl wants."

THE GOOD NATURED MAN

(Bruce in Montreal Herald.)

I know a chap who is renowned, the bars of all the city round, as everybody's friend. "What's yours, old man?" he likes to cry, the drinks for all he likes to buy, "I'll always lend. He smokes cigars of finest brand, and gives them out with lavish hand, to Tom and Dick and Dan; and such a jovial way is his, 'tis said on every side he is, a Most Good Natured Man. He'll always buy a drink or smoke, he always has a ready joke, his wife his moods must eye with dread; his house is cold and bare. With grudging hand and language rough he grants his helpmate scarce enough her daily wants to meet; his little children cry with fright to hear his curses every night and face his fury's heat. But still within the city bars he buys the whiskey and cigars upon a lavish plan; and still a thousand friends he has, and still the city knows him as a Most Good Natured Man."

TRADES UNIONIST ON LABOR SITUATION.

The Daily Capital—

Sir—In reading the report of the interview with Ald. J. H. Miller re the labor situation, I can hardly believe that Ald. Miller wishes to see your readers to accept his version seriously, or in the same manner as one would listen to vaudeville. For instance, he says that "if the city is to spend $100,000 on this work (sewers) it will mean unemployment for 100 men. And he waits about the shortage of available labor-power, and says that the Board of Trade should advertise widely "that the labor market is favorable for the employment of as many men as the trains can bring into the city." Now, Mr. Editor, even Ald. Miller cannot expect people to be gulled with such slush as that. The fact is, sir, that there is ample labor-power, both skilled and unskilled, in Edmonton, to do all that will be required to be done in the city. Regarding the building trades having trouble in getting their quota of men, I think Mr. Editor that most observant people are aware that the difficulty this coming summer will not be the finding of men, but the finding of material for the available men to use. Regarding the high level bridge, does Ald. Miller wish people to believe that bridge-builders are living in Edmonton waiting for a bridge to be built, or that they are anxiously waiting to be told when such work is ready (wherever they live)? The contractor who will have the building of the bridge will bring in the majority of the skilled men (at any rate that they require), and the same can be said of the contractors of the various sections of railroads.

It is a well-known fact, Mr. Editor, that both good and bad news travels fast, and if there are any men needed in Edmonton, there is no need for the Board of Trade to waste money in advertising for men. Perhaps, Ald.

Miller fears a scarcity of carpenters or hammer and saw men (union smashers) and, like the shrewd business man he is (we can accept his own statement, for does not his solution of this imaginary difficulty prove it), he can see that advertising by the Board of Trade would be cheaper and more advantageous (for him) than for Ald. Miller to advertise himself. But Ald. Miller need not fear if men are wanted in Edmonton. There are plenty of men in this country who will hear the good (?) news and they will come here and work for perhaps two or three months, earn sufficient to feed and clothe themselves, and then when King Frost comes round again there will be a wider scope for the charitably inclined and the United Aids to get rid of a little of their superfluous purchasing power. Hoping you will give this space in your valuable paper and thanking you in anticipation, I am, your truly,

TRADES UNIONIST.

LARGE SCORE

Put it All Over St. Marys of Calgary—Jim Sutherland was the Star of Game—Officials Were Very Bad

The St. Mary's team, Calgary, played in Strathcona Saturday evening and received quite a bad defeat, the final score being to 1. The game was witnessed by about 400 people, at least 50 being from Edmonton and staunch supporters of the Saints.

The game, advertised for 9 o'clock, started an half hour late, as is customary in Strathcona. The players seem to have a great reluctance to tear themselves away from the nice warm fire in the dressing room. They were late on Christmas, on New Years, and again last night. But probably their lateness is of that fashionable variety that we read of in the society papers.

The first half of the game was very even, and it looked like a 3-2 score. St. Marys, augmented by Dea and McGannon, of the Deacons, held their speedy opponents in fine shape. The half-time score was 2-1. After the interval goals came in more frequently. At one period Calgary was in the lead 4 to 3. But never no more.

Jim Sutherland got into his stride, and taking advantage of the disorganized opposing defence, scored 3 goals in one minute by the very neat, easy kind of stickhandling. It was just face-off, a flash of lightning and then up goes the goal, Judge's hand. It should also be mentioned that Sutherland scored the last six goals for his team. Clark, their wizard goal keeper, was his usual self. Right at the point was a false alarm. He tried to play a dirty game, but was not fast enough to catch the opposing forwards.

Scotty McLeod, the cover point, played a hard game until his accident just at the end of the second half. He got a crack from a stick which put him down for the count. The physician said it was altogether probable one of McLeod's ribs was broken. Jim Sutherland and Newman were the shining lights on the Seona forward line, while McArthur also showed to advantage. The other forward, Scarborough by name should not be allowed to play hockey. He is the dirtiest, amateur player we have ever seen perform, and on Saturday night should have spent at least 50 of the 60 minutes play on the fence. Not content with slashing, tripping and hacking every man on the Saints' team, he engaged in two fist-bouts with Dea, for which the "warrior" judge of play gave him three minutes.

For the Calgary team, Dea and McGannon played hard, but did not fit in with the other St. Mary's men. No matter how good a man is, he cannot do justice to himself with a strange team. Walber was also good and scored nearly all the visitors' goals. Walton, the point player, for two thirds of the game, was a star. His offensive and defensive work being excellent.

As for the officials, Graben and Green, they were awful. Graben couldn't see an offence to save his life, and Green let everything short of murder, pass unnoticed. But they watched the visitors closely. However, Strathcona officials are noted for

WHERE DO WE COME IN?

The Canadian Soccer Football Association Elects Officers But Edmonton is Completely Ignored

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The Canadian Soccer Football association which embraces the whole of Canada is now practically organized, with the following officers elected: President, J. A. McPherson, Toronto; vice president, Mr. Nelson, Hamilton; George Heitz, S. Larkin, Winnipeg; J. M. Wallis, Vancouver; G. A. Ings, Calgary; secretary treasurer, W. Hilton, Toronto.

The association will make practically no difference in the playing of the leagues concerned, except that the Canadian championships will be played off every year. The people's Shield, which now rests in Calgary, will thus become the Stanley Cup of Soccer football. The different groups will play off and the winners will get into the finals for the shield. One of the features of the new organization will be the adoption of the British Union rules, and the Canadian body will also affiliate with the British association.

It looks rather strange that Edmonton not a representative on this association "which embraces the whole of Canada." Outside of Calgary, which is its holding of the People's Shield bears witness, is the leading soccer city of western Canada, Edmonton certainly comes next. Indeed, the Calties of this city, ranked next their Calgary namesakes as the leading western team.

We have a large and flourishing city league here and outside matches are played with all the surrounding country. If Edmonton, the capital of Alberta, and the soccer centre of the northern portion of the province does not get a representative on this executive, something is very rotten somewhere.

their partiality, and Saturday's game was just the usual thing. With efficient officials and minor Mr. Scarborough, Strathcona have a team which will give any club in the province a hard run. Another game between the Deacons and Strathcona should draw an immense crowd.

ALL-AMERICAN
FOR 20 YEARS

Walter Camp Picks the Best Eleven Men Who Have Played American Rugby in the Last Twenty Years

Walter Camp, the great authority on American Rugby, has now gone himself one better. It has been his custom to pick each year a team, the "All-Americans" which is supposed to represent the eleven best players for the year. But now he has picked a team, which is published here, naming his selection of the best men who have ever played football in the states. We admire Mr. Camp's bravery. There is no doubt that there will be aroused a perfect storm of dissent. It will be noticed that Mr. Camp's Alma Mater, Yale, is well represented by four players.

Walter Camp's team:
End—Hinkey, of Yale; years, 1891-3-4.
Tackle—Fish, of Harvard, years 1908-09.
Guard—Hare, Pennsylvania; years 1897-8-9.
Centre—Schultz, of Michigan; year 1907.
Tackle—Heflinger, of Yale; years 1889-90.
Tackle—DeWitt, Princeton, years, 1902-3.

End—Shevlin, of Yale; years 1902-4-5.
Quarter back—Eckersall, of Chicago; years, 1904-5-6.
Half back—Heston, Michigan; years 1903-4.
Half back—Weekes, of Columbia; year 1901.
Full back—Coy, of Yale; years 1908-09.

Who Will Defend It?
Prince Albert, Jan. 30.—Haddock, who has been signed up to play with the local hockey team here, received a big offer from Saskatoon, but has refused. Haddock plays centre and is doing excellent work. Davidson plays here on Monday night. The local team intends playing Edmonton for the Pitt River Cup.

OTTAWA WINS BY LARGE SCORE

The Hailybury Septette was Defeated by 11 Goals to 4—Gordon Roberts Again the Star

Special to The Capital.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—On ice polished marble, 3,000 of Ottawa's enthusiastic fans saw Hailybury go down to defeat last night before the invincible club wielders, by a score of 11 goals to 4.

The visitors were completely outplayed and outclassed by the Ottawa champions, and at no period was the mining town septette dangerous. With Ottawa 4, Hailybury 2 in first half the visitors hoped to overcome the lead later on, but were sadly fooled, as the Old Guard of hockey in the second half reached their unbeatable stride and with deadly aim drove the rubber into their opponents' net seven times, while Hailybury scored but twice. Roberts, Ottawa's young left wing, proved a wonder in effective scoring. Walsh was off color at centre, but fully protected by Lake and Shore, Ottawa's impenetrable defence. Art Ross and Horace Gaud starred for Hailybury. The line-up was:

DEBUT OF DELEHANTY

The Greatest of a Great Baseball Family Got a Very Good Reception on His First Public Appearance

Jack Nelson, old-time ball player, recalls the debut of Ed, the greatest of the Delehanty's. Says Nelson: "The first time I ever saw Ed Delehanty was in Wheeling, Va. He reported to that club from his home in Cleveland, carrying an old-fashioned carpet sack. The Pirates were playing an exhibition game that day, and Morris and Carroll were in the points for the Pittsburg team.

"I remember just how awkward and ungainly Delehanty appeared as he came to the hotel carrying his big carpet bag.

"Hey," he said to me, 'where's Mr. Buchenberger?'
"Our manager was at lunch, I told Ed so.

The Crowd Howled.
"I'll wait for him," he said, and sat down on a bench, his carpet bag between his legs.

"Pretty soon Buchenberger came out and Ed made himself known.

"Without even offering to buy 'Del's' dinner Buchenberger ordered him to report to the ball park in the afternoon.

"I'll never forget that afternoon. The crowd howled and jeered at the new man in centre field, and to tell the truth, he seemed to deserve it all. I've seen 'rubes' but I never saw a more dejected, mournful-looking species than Delehanty was that day. When it came his turn to bat, however, all was changed. It was then he looked the part of the master.

One Awful Smash.
"There's a hitter," I said to my chum.
"That, that," was the reply.
"The pitcher put up a fast one squarely over the middle of the plate."

"Honestly, I've seen Larry and Lange and all the others hit the ball, but I've never seen a duplicate of that smash. Morris simply sat down on the slab and realized for the ball to be returned from the next voting period. I think it was 75 feet high when it went over, the centre field fence.

"That night at the hotel he said to Buchenberger:
"Do I get a job?"
"Yes," said Buchenberger said. And Del did, and soon had all the world's talking about him. He was the best natural hitter that ever lived."

ALBERTA RECORD HOLDERS

The Local I. C. A. A. Callies and Y. M. C. A. are Represented—Important Meeting on Wednesday

It is to be hoped that the athletic organizations of the city are not losing track of the important meeting to be held in the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday next at 4 o'clock. A scheme for a general athletic field is being by for an athletic field. Every branch of sport is to be looked after and that makes it very necessary that all clubs have representatives at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening.

We have just received from the Copland Brewing Co., Toronto, a copy of their very good reference annual for 1910. It contains all records up to date of every branch of sport, compiled by that eminent authority, H. J. P. Good. The track and field records for Alberta follow:

Alberta Champions
100 yard dash—F. Jenkins, Calgary Y. M. C. A., 10 3/5 seconds.
200 yards dash—E. S. Parney, Edmonton Y. M. C. A., 23 seconds.

IT HAPPENED IN RENFREW

Even in Sunday School, the Boys of the Creamery City Cannot Forget the Hockey Players

Renfrew Journal: Hockey! Yes, everybody in Renfrew is interested in hockey, and even the small boys talk hockey, think hockey and know hockey. Even those who are not especially enthusiastic about the game will enjoy the following true story and to appreciate the point it is only necessary to remember that Renfrew's amateur hockey team is called "the Rivers," and that the centre man on Renfrew's National Hockey Association team is an expert hockey named Jordan. The true tale runs like this: At a local Sunday school last Sunday the teacher in one class was giving a splendid description of the river Jordan. Noticing that one young man in the class was inattentive the teacher thought to catch him napping by suddenly turning to him and asking: "And now (calling him by name) what is Jordan?" "A hockey player," was the prompt but unexpected reply. "Oh, no!" said the teacher, "will some one who has been paying attention give the correct answer?" "Jordan is one of the rivers—" began another scholar in response to this, but he was promptly interrupted by the first boy. "He isn't one of the 'Rivers' at all; he plays centre for the seniors," he said.

TIGER BEAT
LACROSSE-HOCKEY

Speedy Calgary Team Stand at the Head of Their League—May Play Deacons Next Month

The supporters of the Lacrosse-Hockey team got a disappointment Friday night when they saw the champions snowed under to the tune of five goals to three. The Tigers on the play deserved to win. They were a much better balanced team, and played by far the better hockey. The L.-H. did not put up nearly as good a game as they did against the St. Marys team a week ago. They did not work together and made a poor attempt at combination play. McDonald, though he worked hard, was not in Art Lowe's class, and the speed Tiger man always got through. The game was a fairly good one, though there was nothing exciting about the play of either team, but the players checked close, which made the game interesting all the time.

LESEUR VERSUS
WINCHESTER

Eastern Experts Agree That They are the Two Greatest Goal-Keepers in the Business

Shamrocks and Renfrew got the focus of the Edmonton team in Jack Winchester and Fred Whitcroft. Winchester is as good a guardian of the nets as anything that Ottawa has seen in some time, and Whitcroft is one of the speediest forwards in the game.

Winchester and Lesueur work on the ice like twins. Both have the same easy fashion of turning aside shots that are aimed at them with the speed of bullets, and both look completely unconcerned after doing it. Both straighten when the goal is out of danger with the same blasé air, and both have the same pleasant twinkle in their eyes when the crowd applauds. But neither can be accused of playing to the gallery when there is danger of scoring. "On the off chance both will live forward among the skates and smother the puck."

—Ottawa Journal.

JACK TELLS ABOUT IT

Gives Some Inside About the Fight in Montreal—Joe Hall Sailed Right Into Rod Kennedy

Montreal, Que., Jan. 25.
Sporting Editor, The Capital:
Well, it is all over now, even to the shouting, but I fancy there was not very much of that in Edmonton; but don't worry; there is a good time coming and I think we have learned a few lessons that will be beneficial to us all.

The team disbanded in Ottawa right after the cup games, and today the jolly party that came east on the private car "Edmonton" is scattered all over the east. Harold Deaton is spending a few days in Galt and will likely leave about Wednesday for Edmonton. Hugo Ross spent a few days at his home in Ingoquois and will leave for Moose Jaw about Wednesday. Billy Field left here last night for Toronto and will meet Ross and Deaton in Toronto all three making the trip west together.

As you are no doubt aware, Fred Whitcroft and Jack Miller have signed with Renfrew for the balance of the season, and yesterday Bert Boulton attached his autograph to a Shamrock contract at a good figure and will likely play on the rink up against Hailybury. "Jiddy" Miller is going to remain east, as is also our trainer Tom Griffiths. Deacon White and his "Queen of Sheba" went to Chicago Sunday night; they will likely go on through to Edmonton.

The big ice palace and winter carnival which is now a big feature every winter in Montreal, will be on from January 27 to February 5 and Mrs. W. and myself have decided to remain over for a few days and see it. We will in all probability leave here about Saturday, the 29th, and in the meantime I am keeping in shape by taking a little exercise with the Shamrocks and will work out tonight against Hailybury and possibly against Renfrew Friday.

We had a great game here Saturday night with Renfrew. It finished in a very unsatisfactory manner with the score a tie 1-1. The ice was very soft; in fact we have struck nothing else since the first cup game. We practiced in Ottawa on hard ice, but it rained all the 18th and has been soft ever since.

But to get back to the Renfrew game, "Winty" played right wing for the red and white and I wore a green jersey. Fred played a good game but was rather worn out after the two hard games in Ottawa. The players were very close at all stages, but our anxiety to score caused the players to overtake the puck at critical moments. Of course the soft ice also accounted for a lot of misplays.

The great Fred Taylor could not get away. In fact Frank Patrick was the only one on the Renfrew team to shine and he was very brilliant. Lester was not very far behind however. It was Frank who notched the goal for Renfrew and it was a peculiar coincidence that Joe Hall was the goal getter for Shamrocks; these were the two players who caused all the trouble and were the cause of the game not going to a finish. It was about the middle of the second half that a mix-up occurred about the centre of the rink, when Hall after receiving a cut on the head evidently had a "brain storm" and punched out right and left at Frank Patrick. Rod Kennedy, the judge of play, tried to separate them and stepped in front of Joe Hall who kept on plugging. Hall fell to the ice and struck out with his skates. Mr. Kennedy ruled him off for the balance of the game. Frank went to the penalty bench for five minutes. The game ended 1-1 with Shamrock playing six to Renfrew 7. At the conclusion of the hour of play Tom Hodge, the referee, ruled that Shamrocks were entitled to play their full team, that Hall was only off for the balance of the sixty minutes of play. Kennedy ruled otherwise that Hall was off for the rest of the play. As there is no ruling covering this point, it is now up to the league and the game will likely be played over. It was a very unsatisfactory ending to a good game full of exciting moments.

Yours as B4,
JACK WINCHESTER.

PLANS FOR EXHIBITION GROUNDS
REQUIRED
The Board Offers Prizes for the Best
Set of Plans Submitted
Plans showing the best lay-out of grounds, the location of buildings,
main entrance, driveways, walks, etc.,
may be submitted by anyone to The Edmonton Exhibition Association, Ltd., until February 10th.

Blueprints of the Exhibition Grounds on which are shown the permanent location of the race track and fence and C.N.R. and G.T.P. Railways also, the street railway on the north side of the grounds, may be obtained at the Board of Trade office. A deposit of $2 is required from anyone taking a blueprint; this amount will be refunded to all submitting plans. A plan however accepted to all will be kept on the wall of the Board of Trade office. It is proposed to request the City Council to extend the Street Railway east up Kinnaird street, thence east to the Park.

The following prizes are offered:
For the best plan, $250; second best,
$150; third best, $75, which are to become the property of the Exhibition Association. The Association reserves the right not to accept any plan, or if there are not more than three competitors to award only two prizes.

The competitors are purposely given a wide scope to submit plans which in their opinion be best suited to the grounds and the present and future needs on Exhibition lines of the growing city of Edmonton.

The World of Amusement

Empire Has Another Quality Bill.

For the first three days of this week starting with this afternoon's matinee, the Empire has another list of stellar attractions for the entertainment of its many patrons. It is a bill out of the ordinary in many ways, and will prove a decided change from anything seen here to date.

Vina's Models, the feature act, is an offering of all that is beautiful in the highest art studies. Such world-known classics in art as "The Angelus," "Love's Dream," "After the Example of the Gods," "The Birth of the Flag," "The Lion's Bride," "The Nymphs," "Polar Star," "Daughters of Menesha," etc. are portrayed with living models, and with a wealth of beautiful scenic and electrical effects.

Another classy offering is that of Erretto Brothers, acrobats of the highest order.

Cora Hall, an English comedienne, has a charming stage appearance and manner, and her turn is one that will appeal to all.

The Hirdickas, singers, both possess fine voices, and know how to use them. The lady has a most elaborate wardrobe, and during the act she changes costumes several times and each succeeding gown seems to be daintier than its predecessor.

The Musical Montgomeries have an elaborate musical novelty act, in which some exceptionally good music is introduced.

Alice Pinckton, "she with the voice," has another catchy illustrated song number, and that she will please everybody is a foregone conclusion.

"Irving's" Invincibles, otherwise known as the Empire Orchestra, will discourse some sweet music before the rise of the curtain in their usual finished manner, and the Empire's scope will conclude a performance that will satisfy the most exacting.

CAMPAIGN FOR PROHIBITION

Clinton N. Howard Says it Will Come in Alberta in a Year if Church Workers Say so

CROWDS AT OPERA HOUSE

Only Two Kinds of Barrooms the Bad and the Worse—Would Sooner Have the Bad Than the Respectable meetings yesterday, aroused shall be kept going until a plebiscite is submitted next fall in Edmonton and other localities of the province.

The keynote of Mr. Howard's address is victory for the cause of temperance direct from Rochester, N.Y., that the enthusiasm which his two

On a ten day's tour of Alberta with "A Ride on the Waterwagon" as his text, Clinton B. Howard, a mighty little man, lectured afternoon and evening yesterday to packed audiences in the Opera House. His addresses are intended to mark the beginning of a temperance campaign in this province which is to drive the liquor traffic to its grave.

It is the purpose of the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League, which brought Mr. perance. When he made his first temperance address or registration at ten years of age, he carried a star on his coat. That star stood for Maine, which was the first prohibition state in the union. Three years ago there were three states, but today there were ten, with 75,000,000 people of the United States living under a prohibition law.

Mr. Howard stands for out and out prohibition. He thought it was a great mistake that Alberta was not put under a prohibition law when it was formulated a province. That it has not since come under prohibition was because those enlisted in the Church of Christ were not causing the attention on this thing.

He explained this by an illustration to the effect that if a building was on fire there might be oceans of water about, but the extinction of the fire depended on the playing upon it of the hose. So too, he thought, the extinction of the liquor traffic depended on the attitude of the Christian people on the question.

Rests With Church

"The Church has the faculty to destroy the liquor traffic in this province in twelve months," said Mr. Howard, "if it will only use that faculty. The church which has a talent and uses it shall be given another, but the church that does not shall lose that which it has."

The speaker said there are supposedly two kinds of licensed places, the good and the bad. He wished to say that the only two kinds were the bad and the worse, and that the worse was the so-called respectable bar. If he had to choose between a low-down, lousy, infamous saloon or a respectable, refined, elegantly mirrored hotel bar, he would like the saloon. The young men of Alberta would not be seen going to the saloon but they would go to the hotel to get their dinner, to meet a friend, to write a letter, etc., and they always found the bar and there matched coins with the city alderman to see who was to pay for the drinks.

Proceeding, Mr. Howard said that the liquor men might be expected to become good when a temperance campaign was being launched. They might be expected to make some pretense of observing the license regulations.

"Have you enjoyed listening to me?" said the little man.

"Yes," replied the audience.

"Did you like the ride on the waterwagon?"

"Yes," was the louder response.

"Then pay your fares," said he by way of announcing the taking of the collection. He remarked that he got not a cent more than his expenses but that all above that went to the Temperance and Moral Reform League.

Afternoon Address

Speaking in the afternoon before a packed audience Mr. Howard touched on the resources of Canada and her future greatness if sobriety prevailed in the land.

"Riches do not constitute greatness," he said, "but I find that Canada is not only rich in soil, coal and gold, but also men."

"Canada keeps the Sabbath of God better than any other nation. I know she will abolish the grog shop in this generation."

He quoted a remark of Harriet Beecher Stowe: "The longer I live, I am persuaded that what ought to happen will happen"—and, continuing, said, "The liquor traffic in Canada will die, because it ought to die."

"Everything is tending to prohibition. The world today has taken a more aggressive stand against the drink traffic than the church did, 100 years ago."

Prohibition Sticks

The lecturer gave several instances of the flourishing condition of states of the Union which had adopted Prohibition, notwithstanding certain disadvantages of soil, etc., which they labored under, and by referring to these proved most conclusively that the answer to the question: Does the policy of Prohibition work?—was that it did work, and most successfully.

"The responsibility of the liquor traffic is in your hands," he said, "and you have the power to drive it from your city and from the country. If Canada does not deal with the matter now, in the coming generation she will have the same problem to deal with, as they have in the rum-cursed cities of the states."

"The hour of retribution for the rum shop has come, for if there is one thing that is certain in this world, it is that the public is determined to

THE ISOLATION HOSPITAL

Dr. Wilson's Recent Statement at Hospital Meeting Replied to by Dr. Whitelaw

"My horses are better housed than the patients at the Isolation Hospital," was one of the sweeping statements made by Dr. W. A. Wilson at the recent annual meeting of the citizens interested in the Edmonton Public Hospital. Dr. Wilson also said that the windows of the Isolation Hospital could be heard to rattle at a considerable distance. In like fashion he drew a picture of a most deplorable state of affairs existing in Edmonton's municipal institution. He even went so far as to intimate that it was unsafe to send a patient there for fear of being infected by the many contagious diseases treated there.

In the light of this it is interesting to read the report of Dr. Whitelaw, medical health officer, as published in the Edmonton departmental report for the year ending October 31, 1909. Dr. Whitelaw reports as follows:

Number of Patients.

During the year 121 patients have been admitted, classified as follows:

Scarlet fever, 45; suspect ditto, 2; erysipelas, 19; tuberculosis, 12; mumps, 12; measles, 11; diphtheria, 11; suspect ditto, 3; smallpox, 3; suspect ditto, 2; chickenpox, 3; syphilis, 2; cholera infantum, 2; broncho pneumonia, 2; typhoid fever, 1.

The total number of hospital days was 2,068. The number of deaths occurring during the year was nine, from the following diseases:

Tuberculosis, 5; scarlet fever, 2; erysipelas and typhoid, 1; diphtheria, 1.

Justifiable Record.

The record for the Isolation Hospital abundantly justifies its existence as an investment of the city. The other hospitals make no provision for the care of infectious cases, and the prompt removal of most of the cases of ordinary infectious disease to the Isolation Hospital and immediate disinfection of the premises affected, has controlled outbreaks which otherwise might have become epidemic.

While cases of infectious disease may be quarantined in private houses it is very difficult to enforce strictly the rules of quarantine. Absolute dependence unfortunately cannot be placed on all householders to adhere closely to quarantine regulations throughout the whole period of quarantine.

No Complaints Made.

Regarding the treatment and accommodation afforded at the Isolation Hospital, no complaints have been made to the department, but on the other hand many expressions of appreciation of the excellent nursing attendance given have been cheerfully tendered by patients and their relatives as well as by their physicians.

The amount received in fees from the patients during the last year, in addition to government grants, was $2,377.5, a remarkably good record for the total of 2,068 hospital days already referred to.

The city of Strathcona has during the year made application and obtained permission to use our Isolation Hospital, the municipality guaranteeing to pay the usual rates charged to patients, it being understood that if the accommodation becomes taxed that Edmonton patients must be given the preference.

Dr. Whitelaw, when asked regarding the statement of Dr. Wilson, said that it might be construed to mean that Dr. Wilson's well-appointed stable might be a better place for horses than the hospital was a place for patients.

Pinchot to Be President.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 29.—The election of Gifford Pinchot to succeed Dr. Charles W. Eliot as president of the National Conservation Association was announced last night. Dr. Eliot, at whose suggestion Mr. Pinchot was elected, retains the honorary presidency. Mr. Pinchot takes active charge of the association tomorrow, the headquarters of which will be in Washington.

Two weeks ago Dr. Eliot wrote to the executive committee of the association expressing his opinion that Dr. Pinchot, as the recognized head of the conservation movement, should take the active leadership of the association.

The lecturer was introduced in the afternoon by His Honor, Lieutenant Governor Bulyea, who occupied the chair. Rev. F. W. Patterson took the chair in the evening and Rev. Robt. Pearson led in the opening prayer. Vocal selections on both occasions were rendered by Mr. Alf McLean.

LIBERALS IN BETTER HEART

Moreover, the debate on the address is likely to be very animated. An amendment is ready for parliament, including the home rule and fiscal questions. The latter, however, is likely to be in the background, so far as parliament is concerned, although an active propaganda will be continued in the constituencies. The warlike fight in the new parliament will be on the veto of the House of Lords which all are agreed will precipitate a new election within a few months.

Elections Complete in England.

London, January 29.—The re-election of J. C. Hancock, Labor candidate for the Middle Division of Derbyshire, announced today, completes the elections for the new parliament in England. The remaining half dozen constituencies to make returns are Scotch and Irish. The final totals in England alone give Unionist reformers 239, Liberals and Laborites combined 227, or a Unionist majority of 12, compared with a Liberal-Labor majority of 211 received in 1906.

When Buying Your Piano

It will pay you to have a talk with George H. Suckling, whose Piano Salon, "Harmony Hall," adjoins the Post Office, and have the benefit of his nearly 40 years' experience in Europe and America, with the world's most famous pianos. Why purchase the first piano that is offered to you and not do yourself and your pocketbook the justice of seeing and hearing the really high-grade quality pianos of the world, Nordheimer, Steinway and Haines Bros., which superb instruments will not cost you any more than what you are likely to be asked elsewhere for pianos of ordinary commercial quality and value. Easiest payment terms arranged.

IF You Would Like to Know a Sure Way to Increase Your Business in 1910---

Perhaps we can help you figure it out. At the outset of the year the merchant has a natural ambition to make the coming twelve-month more profitable than the past. Business competition is becoming fiercer but it is also becoming more profitable—for those who do the business.

It is all in doing the business. Are you satisfied with what you are doing or do you want to do more? If you are ambitious to make 1910 a record year; if you want to see business grow, you must get more customers. Advertising will help you get these new customers. If you get them, have you confidence in yourself and your business that you can keep them? If you haven't that confidence don't advertise, but if you are satisfied you can live up to publicity that draws, now is the time to

RULES and CONDITIONS of the CONTEST

Read Carefully

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT PRIZE CONTEST

Any married or single lady or gentleman, girl or boy, of any age residing in Edmonton or Strathcona, or within the circulation zone of The Daily Capital, Saturday News or Alberta Homestead is eligible to enter the contest. It is not necessary to be a subscriber or even to subscribe for either of the above papers in order to become a candidate.

Candidates may nominate themselves, or may be nominated by their friends.

The Contest Department reserves the right to reject any nomination, without giving any reason therefor, or to change any rule for cause.

No member of employer's family or employees of The Daily Capital, Saturday News or Alberta Homestead, or members of employees' families will be eligible as a candidate.

THE VOTING

The voting will be done by coupons clipped from the Daily Capital, Saturday News and Alberta Homestead and by certificates issued upon the payment of a subscription to the above papers. The coupons will be published in the Daily Capital, Saturday News and Alberta Homestead, and will be good for votes when neatly cut out, name of candidate filled in and brought or mailed to the contest department before the expiry date upon them. Certificates for votes will be issued as per schedule, published elsewhere in this announcement.

Votes cannot be bought, but are issued free when asked for when subscriptions are paid.

Candidates will be allowed to accept subscription money and give temporary receipts therefor. When the money is turned in at the Contest Department, a regular receipt will be given or mailed to the subscriber.

THE DISTRICTS

Each district is separate and distinct in itself, and the vote cast for candidates in one district has no bearing whatever upon the number of votes cast for candidates in other districts, except so far as the grand prizes are concerned. The grand prizes will be awarded to the two candidates receiving the greatest number of votes, irrespective of district. The district prizes will be awarded to the highest voters in each district (not winning a grand prize.) The candidate having the highest vote will be allowed first choice, the one having second highest vote second choice, and so on. Grand Prize winners are not eligible to win a district prize, as no candidate will be allowed to win two prizes.

Candidates may compete from where they reside or where they are employed.

Votes are not transferable. Candidates may collect subscriptions in other districts than the one from which they compete, or any place in the postal union.

AWARDING OF PRIZES

At the close of the contest the returns will be counted by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts.

The decision of the Contest Committee in making awards shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nomination must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between two candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided or another prize of equal value added.

WHAT DO YOU DO WHEN YOU ENTER

The first thing to do is to enter your name as a candidate. Then either call or phone the Contest Department for receipt book and supplies. Ask for more than one receipt book if you have friends who will work for you. Then let your friends know that are in the contest and request them to save their votes for you.

HOW TO WIN A VALUABLE PRIZE

Send in your nomination. You will find a nomination blank at the bottom of this advertisement. The nomination blank is good for 1000 votes, which gives you a fine start.

Then enlist the aid of your friends and neighbors. Let everyone know you are a candidate before they promise their help to a more enterprising candidate.

POOR OLD

JOE HALL

Montreal Herald Says the Bad Man of Hockey was Badly Treated by Renfrew

In another part of this page will be found an account of the famous Renfrew-Shamrock match in Montreal in which Joe Hall did his famous stunt "Slugging the Judge of Play." Jack Winchester, who played goal (and he did it well) for the Shamrocks that evening, tells all about the scrap. This selection from the Montreal Herald is too good to pass up:

"Poor old Joe Hall. One can't help feeling a little sympathy for Joseph in his latest mix-up. Coming from the west three years ago with the reputation of being a Bold Bad Man, he has lived that reputation down during the seasons he has played on the Montreal Wanderers and Shamrock teams. And then in ten seconds all the work of three seasons was wiped. A sardonic smile came over the countenance of Fred Taylor when he saw Joseph's hunch hooks digging into the judge of play. Fred, you remember, did the same thing up in Ottawa the summer before last when he was playing lacrosse for Caps. The National Lacrosse Union considered his case and sent him a letter which is now treasured—in a deep bordered frame, as one of the prizes of the Taylor family. The National Hockey Association will presumably have to deal with Hall's case. Whether he will get a letter or get the can all depends on circumstances.

Brain storm was the way most of the officials round the rink Saturday night sized up Joe Hall's misconduct. Previous to the run-in Joseph had done some queer things. Once he grabbed the puck and tried to throw it into the net. But, that, of course, doesn't stand for much. Time was when Fred Taylor picked up the puck and threw it into the crowd when hard pressed. Things like those are just eccentricities, not brain storm. Even supposing Joe had a brain storm the question for the N.H.A. to decide is whether players subject to brain storms are fit people to play senior hockey. A man with brain storm and a hockey stick can do a lot of damage. And there might be ladies present."

GRAIN GROWERS AT OTTAWA

Present Request to Sir Richard for Government Control of Terminal Elevators

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Sir Richard Cartwright was yesterday waited upon by a delegation representing the grain growing and milling interests of the Dominion, who renewed the request made last year that the government take over the control of the terminal elevators at Port William and Port Arthur.

The delegation included Messrs. R. MacKenzie and R. C. Henderson, secretary and vice-president of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association; Messrs. Watts, Shaw and Rice of the Dominion Millers' Association, and Mr. Ewing, M.L.A., representing the Dominion Grange.

A number of western members of parliament were also on hand, including Messrs. Schaffner, Staples, McCrancy, Clarke, and Herron.

Mr. Rice, president of the Dominion Millers' Association, presented a resolution passed at the last annual meeting, asking the government to operate terminal elevators along the line suggested by the Grain Growers' Association.

In answer to a question by Sir Richard Cartwright, it was stated by Mr. Shaw that he estimated that the depreciation caused by the manipulation of grain in transit and at terminal elevators amounted to one and a half cents per bushel.

Mr. Ewing, on behalf of the Dominion Grange, told the minister that they endorsed the plan taken by the grain growers, although the Ontario farmers were not directly interested, they were in sympathy with the demands made by the western farmers.

Mr. MacKenzie stated that the provincial governments of the prairie provinces had recently taken themselves to the principle of inter-provincial elevators being operated by provincial governments and the advantages which would accrue to western provinces as a result of this policy would not be as great unless the Federal government takes over the terminal elevators.

All the speakers from the west urged the necessity of the construction of the Hudson's Bay Railway.

Sir Richard Cartwright stated that he would lay the suggestions he had received before his colleagues within a few days. He hoped that the government would be able to give an early reply to the demand. The delegation will see Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. S. Fielding on Saturday.

There are a number of Albertans spending the winter in Southern California who are enthusiastic polo players and whenever the game is played they are much in evidence. At present Major C. G. Ross and Justin Dean Freeman are rusticiating there, and it is their desire to get a quartette from Alberta to play at a coming polo tournament. With this end in view, they wired Harry Robertson of High River to join issues with them. In all probability he will go, and if he does there will be something doing in polo—High River Times.

THE BROKAW CASE

MINNA LAHTI

MRS. W. G. BROKAW

JOHN F. MCINTYRE CROSS EXAMINING

JOHN H. ARMSTRONG

HUBERT A. HENSLEY

New York, and incidentally the greater part of the continent, has been following a remarkable case, tried at Mineola, Long Island, in which Mrs. Brokaw, the wife of a New York millionaire, is seeking $60,000 a year alimony and a separation. It has been the costliest case of its kind on record, lasting over many weeks. Mrs. Brokaw's legal expenses are estimated at $60,000 up to date. Much time was taken up with an effort made by the defendant's lawyers to prove that he was not as wealthy as represented.

Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Hensley were important witnesses to testify to his financial standing. The girl, Minna Lahti, was Mrs. Brokaw's maid, who gave certain information regarding conditions in the household. Mr. Brokaw told a most doctored story. They had had only one week of happiness. When he came in with flowers as a love offering, she immediately called for a timeclock check on his movements, and accused him of wrongdoing. That, he averred, always started a tumult, until his entire married life appeared to him a series of quarrels, makings up and renewals of hostilities.

Mr. Brokaw evinced a strong disposition to say things about his father-in-law, Mr. J. A. Blair, whom he charged with threatening to shoot him, and with precipitating a quarrel with his wife over her refusal to request her father to make short his stay upon Mr. Brokaw's yacht. During the long day of examination through which his attorney, John A. McIntyre, put him, the witness told of his wife smoking cigarettes, of surreptitious cocktails, of her frequent and bitter verbal contests with him, and then he said:

"I loved her devotedly; in fact I was crazy about her, or I would never have so often forgiven her and made up our quarrels."

This is sufficient to show the character of the testimony that has filled column after column of the metropolitan newspapers.

AN AUDUBON SOCIETY

Formed After a Lecture on the Birds of America by Mr. Stansell

On Friday a very interesting and instructive lecture was given by S. S. Stansell at the Y.M.C.A. on "The Birds of North America." About 90 excellent illustrations were given. After the lecture a meeting for the purpose of forming an Audubon Society was also held, with G. Chadwick in the chair. The officers elected were as follows:

President, G. Chadwick; secretary, treasurer, S. S. Stansell; advisory committee, Messrs. Fife, Revell, Hill, Harlow, Lawton and LeBlanc.

Radium Bank Projected.

London, Jan. 28.—Negotiations are in progress to establish in New York a bank of a novel character—that is, an institution where a quantity of radium will be kept in stock and loaned out to medical men. There already exists a radium bank in Paris, and London saw this week the inauguration of the "Radium Bank of Great Britain" with temporary premises in Moorgate street, in the city. The projectors purpose to acquire $50,000 worth of radium and to loan too milligrammes of it to duly qualified practitioners at the rate of $200 or 2½ per cent. of its value for the first day, and half of 1 per cent. per diem for subsequent days. It is asserted that the acquisition of such a large quantity of radium has now been made possible by the recent discovery of minerals rich in radium in Portugal.

Mr. Armbricht, who is the chief intermediary for the sale of radium in this country, when asked about the projected bank, said that the great difficulty which faced scientific men was not to find where radium existed, but to extract it. In America there was an enormous quantity of carnotite, but it was practically useless because it contained only 6 per cent. of uranium-oxide, and that was unproductive with the existing methods of extraction.

Mr. Armbricht, who said that he had sold 40 milligrammes of radium yesterday for $1,750, confirmed the statement that a proposal was on foot to establish a radium bank in New York as well as in London, Berlin, and Vienna.

American Immigration to Canada.

Washington, June 29.—More than $200,000,000 worth of American goods were exported to Canada last year. That at least is the effect of the emigration from the United States to Canada in 1909, according to the report of U. S. Consul Constant of Windsor, Ont. The total number of emigrants from the U. S. for the year was 90,148, and the Canadian Immigration Commissioner has estimated that the average wealth of these American settlers was $1,000. "There are several reasons advanced by the authorities for the large increase of immigration into Canadian territory," says Consul Constant, "but the one given the most credence is the easy manner in which homes-lead lands can be obtained and the inducements held out to prospective settlers."

the month that I had steered his boat on the Nile Expedition. My eye became blind to the dim outlines of Magerfontein looming darkly beyond the Modder river and my ears deaf to the whispered surmises as to the details of a battle that through the wandering incapacity of a comrade-in-officer drowned the wilder of the Karoo with the heroic blood of Scotland and crumpled up the finest brigade in South Africa.

Far and away from the mystic shadows of African night, from the tragic battle of the coming hour the "Wee, laddie," of the Scottish soldier conjured up a voice and a scene in a little "sweetie" store in a scattered settlement in far-off Canada by a greater river than the Modder.

The Clannishness of the Scotch

There is something in the accusation of clannishness made against those of the Scottish race, for of those who were wont to gather in the evenings of the long ago in the only bakery and candy store in Edmonton, the majority were of Scottish race.

There must have been something hereditary in those of us whose forebears for several generations had lived in Canada far from the land of heather and shaggy wood that caused to gather at the close of the long summer days on the stoop of James Lauder's bakery and confectionery store on Fraser avenue or in the longer nights of winter go forth on counter and proffered chairs to listen to the kindly "crack" of the merry matronly Mrs. Lauder. There would come quiet dogmatic Jim McDonald, whose conservative of opinion was as aggressive as his heart was kindly; Kenzie MacLeod, whose dark eyes would gladden and glow with Celtic responsiveness to the varying stories that were told; poor old Jim Pettie, the kindest, most irresponsible Scotchman that every foot in Edmonton, or belied the Scottish reputation of wildness and caution; Willie Wilkie, who would sing, in the old broad Scotch that only a few of the oldest country families of Scotland retain, the sweet old ballad of "The Four Maries"; Billy Edson, who would come in at times from Clover Bar for some scones or some shortbread and the opportunities to hear in the Doric the accent of the land he had left.

It was the nearest approach to a glimpse of home life of childhood many of us ever had in those early days of Edmonton, the gossip and chat of the first and only bakery and candy store, the only store on Fraser avenue. The kindly, almost motherly, interest of the great-hearted Scotchwoman in the success or failure of the varied spasmodic efforts of those old shaggy-napped days, of the young men in whom she displayed interest, attracted us with a force we half-grown men did not understand and which was inexpressibly dear to those of older years who felt its reminiscent charm.

"Gang home to your mither, laddie," said she at one time to one who, unprepared for the battle of life on the frontier and mistaking the strength of its temptations had drifted rudderless into the rocks and rapids of the dangerous stream of life in those lonely, early days. "Gang home to your mither and think what shame ye will bring on her if ye yield to a habit that's ruining you." And he did.

Many years afterwards two men, when the sun of success was beginning to peer from behind the clouds of disaster that marked the first three months of the last South African war, sat far into the night beside a lonely camp fire a few miles from Bloemfontein in the Orange Free State. They had been friends in those early days on the North Saskatchewan and had not met since they parted on the banks of the northern river, and the gossip and reminiscence of the old days of many scenes, of many incidents and many people were recalled under the star-lit African sky; but many as were the trails of the past, travelled about that camp fire, they all converged again and again to the little "sweetie" store on Fraser avenue and kindly Mrs. Lauder.

The Influence of Pioneer Women.

The influence of the women of the early isolated settlements of Western Canada was far-reaching, but little did Mrs. Lauder think that the memories of her womanliness and kindly humor would mellow the dreams of the two world wanderers, "Billy" Fielders and another man, at a trying hour of a campaign on the plains of South Africa, years afterwards.

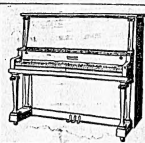

It was the saving sense of humor impregnating the Scottish shrewdness of her lovable personality that caused the coterie that foregathered in the little store to seek its hospitable doors. Mingled with the strain of Calvinism of the Scottish Presbyterianism of another day there was generally a spirit of tolerance for the mistakes and follies of youth that particularly appealed to us of the ill-regulated West.

A tolerant spirit pervaded those old-time gatherings and laughter greeted the story of the outwitting of an Inspector of Mounted Police by a keg of contraband in the centre of a load of freight; as it did the stories of Jim MacDonald as to the way in the unregenerate days of youth he hooked a salmon or bagged a grouse in the preserved streams or moors in the Highlands of Scotland.

There was never a breath of malicious scandal or sinister innuendo in the old Fraser avenue store, for it was not of the nature of Jimmie Lauder or his guide wife to permit it, and the world of the Far West owes as much to that little frontier "sweetie" store as it does to many a mission church.

Policies entered very little into the discussions of those days and we were all pretty much Oliver men, however Tory some of us might be in our sympathies, for, as Mrs. Lauder would convincingly say, "Frank is one of the dearest living, hardest working and the best neighbor in Edmonton," and then we all went and voted for him. Protection and free trade didn't cut much in the face of a mission church that in a community of two hundred miles from a railway.

Shall we of that group of the olden time ever forget the red letter nights such as "Hogmanay Night," Christmas Eve, or Halloween when we could persuade Mrs. Lauder to

"Sing to us the old Scots songs
In the braud old Scottish tongue;
The sangs my father lo'd to hear,
The sangs my mither sang.
She sang sae sweet I couldna sleep
The auld Scots sangs rae me."

Mrs. Lauder could never finish those dear old songs, she sang to us lonely ones years ago as she sat in that far-off corner of the world, surrounded by her little ones and the wayfarers of the early West. Memories of girlhood days in her Scottish home seemed to crowd into her heart, her eyes would dim, the sweet voice would break—and we of her race understood.

THE DAY IN STRATHCONA

Budget of News from the City on the South Bank of the River

The first meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Bible Class of the University met on Sunday afternoon at 4:15 in the Burger Block. Dr. Tork took the class. Rules were arranged for systematic Bible study by the students. The class will meet regularly on Sunday afternoon.

A large number of Strathcona people walked to Edmonton on Sunday afternoon in order to hear Mr. Clinton N. Howard deliver his address in the Opera House. Mr. Howard delighted and edified his audience both in Strathcona and Edmonton.

Gravel is being stored up on the property west of J. S. McWhitney's house for the construction of granolithic walks and other improvements next summer.

In the Metropolitan Methodist Church Rev. H. E. Gordon preached a sermon on "Isaiah, the Bricked Young Man." He emphasized in his sermon the integrity required by young men in all business transactions.

Rev. J. C. Bowen, chaplain of the church, delivered a sermon to the carvers in the Baptist church last evening. A large number of carvers was present.

Mr. A. B. McLeod who was hurt in the hockey match on Saturday night is reported much better today and is expected to be out again very shortly. "Scotty" was playing a splendid game up to the time of his accident, going down and scoring the first goal for the locals single-handed.

Just in this connection what do you know about Strathcona team playing three juniors not out of their heads beating the Calgary team reinforced by the pick of the Deacons by a score of 10-4, and further, what do you know about one of those juniors scoring 5 of the goals in succession in about 15 minutes? That looked very well, thank you, from the side.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held on Tuesday, February 1st.
Don't forget the voting on the money by-laws and the "high" level bridge agreement on the 7th inst.

The University exams are still being held. They will end on Wednesday, which will end the first semester. The second term commences on February 4th.

Curling Results Saturday.
